

Melissa Landini :: Director Editor Producer

Founding Partner of Via Verde Productions, Melissa has Produced, Directed and Edited for Film & Television for more than 20 years. She began her career as an editor during the first computer “revolution” of the film & television industry and has been on the cutting edge of converging new technologies ever since. Her diverse experience continues in the development of motion and still photography, digital content development and the production of original programming.

Please contact us to request a full biography.